Sir William Penney,
Building 329.

National Institute Computer Committee (Atlas Project)

I have talked with Willis of the National Institute and with Dr. Vick about Sir John's suggestion; we agreed on this list of names, in addition to yourself and Sir John:

Mr. J. B. Adams
Dr. T. G. Pickavance
Dr. M. V. Wilkes	-	Cambridge University Mathematics Laboratory
Dr. R. A. Buckingham	-	London University Computer Unit
Prof. R. E. Peierls	-	Birmingham
Prof. T. Kilburn	-	Manchester
Dr. J. C. Kendrew	-	Medical Research Council, Cambridge
Prof. Sir Harry Massey	-	London
Sir Graham Sutton	-	Meteorological Office
Dr. M. J. Lighthill	-	R.A.E. Farnborough

This is rather a long list, but quite a number of different interests will need to be represented. Willis is writing to Sir John and is suggesting that he (Willis) should be Secretary and that I should either be a member of the Committee or should act with him as joint Secretary.
